

Novartis Partnership with Trinity Centre for People with Intellectual Disabilities

Feb 04, 2020

Novartis are delighted to have renewed our ongoing partnership with the Trinity Centre for People with Intellectual Disabilities (TCPID). Situated in the School of Education, the TCPID aims to promote the inclusion of people with intellectual disabilities in education and society. Students complete a two year full-time Certificate in Arts, Science and Inclusive Applied Practice in Trinity College, covering a wide range of modules, designed to enhance their capacity to fully participate in society as independent adults.

The TCPID works with a number of business partners who provide work placements and graduate internships for students / graduates of the TCPID. Novartis is delighted to be one of these partners.
