efficiency.

- Partner with Head, US Communications & Patient Advocacy to develop and execute a forward-thinking strategy that advances the team ' s objectives, leveraging competitive and business intelligence to deliver differentiation and drive competitive advantage.
- Lead planning and the establishment of processes to ensure the team ' s efficiency and alignment with business priorities. Define and implement metrics to measure outputs and link them to business outcomes, ensuring resources and efforts are optimized.
- Oversee the management of the team's budget, ensuring resources are allocated effectively and aligned with strategic priorities.
- Plan and execute high-impact leadership team meetings, team-building activities, and planning sessions to strengthen strategic alignment and drive organizational goals.
- Cultivate strong relationships across Corporate Affairs, US leadership, Novartis functions/units, and external partners to align strategies, share insights, and capture synergies that enhance business outcomes.
- Support the Head, US Communications & Patient Advocacy and Chief of Staff on strategic projects, and participate in cross-functional projects, as needed.

Essential Requirements:

- Bachelor's Degree required
- 10+ years of experience in Communications, Corporate Affairs or a related field
- Quality of strategic insights and impactful contributions to key projects, aligned with the function ' s objectives.
- Proactive and efficient management of processes, ensuring timeliness and high-quality execution
- Measurable success in fostering a culture of high performance, innovation, and collaboration.
- Effective optimization of processes, resource allocation, and financial management.

Desirable Requirements:

- Absolute dedication to confidentiality
- Strong business and financial acumen
- Ability to lead through ambiguity to drive clarity and outcomes
- Strong matrix management and influencing skills to manage complex challenges and opportunities
- Proven ability to multi-task and manage multiple hard deadlines under time pressure
- Exceptional clarity of communication and thought
- Humble, respectful attitude toward colleagues
