

Celebrating Community Partnership Day

Volunteerism and giving back to communities where we live and work are more than just tradition; they're core values.

Apr 24, 2018

Our first global Community Partnership Day was held in 1997. More than two decades later, volunteerism and giving back to communities where we live and work are more than just tradition; they're core values.

Community Partnership Day is a powerful opportunity for our associates around the world to give back to their communities. In 2018, more than 23 900 Novartis associates from six continents and 58 countries are volunteering more than 191 200 hours of combined community service.

This year's Community Partnership Day is taking place on April 24. We encourage everyone involved to share their personal experience using the hashtag #NovartisCPD2018.
